CLIENT AGREEMENT AND DISCLOSURE STATEMENT For Energy-Medicine/Bioenergetics Services

Welcome! Thank you for your interest in working with me as a client either in person or remotely—virtually over the internet or by phone, whichever is applicable. I am providing you with the following information so that you can make an informed choice about your decision to engage my services. I specialize in guiding my clients to manage stress, to heal their energetic wounds of physical and/or emotional trauma, gain greater clarity, achieve optimal health, and experience expanded awareness, inner peace, and a renewed sense of wholeness and balance in their lives. I offer private consultations focused on tailored solutions addressing each client's specific needs for healing and personal transformation.

Please read this information carefully and let me know if there is any part that you do not understand. Although I am committed to sharing my skills and abilities to support your well-being, my work with you is only a resource. As an intentional and conscious participant in your personal growth, you will ultimately take all responsibility for and actions related to your mind-body-spirit health and well-being.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES OFFERED

My consulting practice is built around a holistic wellness paradigm that characterizes total wellness as the integration, balance, and harmony of physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual aspects of the human condition. Energy medicine serves as my framework for the relaxation techniques I offer to clients as stress-management tools and for addressing a wide range of health concerns and wellness goals. My primary energy-medicine modalities are NES Health™, Eden Energy Medicine/Eden Method, the Emotion Code®, and the PhotonWave system. In addition, I draw on my training and practical experience with the X-Test™ universal prayer system, Reiki, Reconnective Healing® and the Reconnection®, shamanism, sound and mantra healing, trauma-sensitive yoga, the Melt Method®, and various energy-balancing methods and devices, as deemed appropriate. You have the option of selecting individually or collectively any of the services I offer as part of our work together.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION AND TERMINOLOGY

As Albert Einstein expressed in his famous $E = mc^2$ equation over a hundred years ago, the realms of energy and matter are inescapably linked. The term energy is generally associated with two kinds of energy fields—veritable energy fields, which can be measured, and putative (or subtle) energy fields, which (for the most part) cannot be easily measured with current technologies. The human body creates and is affected by both types of energy fields. The subtle fields are believed to connect into the physical body through various subtle energy systems, such as the acupuncture meridians and the chakras.

Energy Medicine is a collective term that is used to refer to a variety of approaches and techniques involving electromagnetic and subtle energies. Based on the premise that every physical, mental, emotional, or behavioral issue has an energetic counterpart that can be addressed at that level, energy medicine offers gentle, non-invasive, dynamic, and holistic options for supporting health and well-being.

Energy medicine works with the body's energy systems and fields. In this context, health becomes a function of energy flow and organization, field integrity, proper resonance, and coherence of light (biophoton) emissions. Energy medicine draws on ancient healing and wisdom traditions and leverages modern science and cutting-edge technologies. It is both a complement to conventional medical practices and, in itself, a robust system for holistic care.

Energy medicine uses biophysics to identify blockages and distortions in the body's energy and information fields and engages specific processes and balancing techniques to resolve them, with the goal of boosting health and vitality. It is aimed at awakening, activating, and supporting the body's innate abilities to restore and maintain wholeness, balance, and inner peace. Bioenergetics can be defined in general as the study, detection, and correction of energy in living systems. It is a form of Energy Medicine and a term used in conjunction with the NES Health™ system and other quantum-field methods.

When using energy-medicine techniques, I am not diagnosing or treating the physical body, which is the domain of medical and allied healthcare professionals; instead, I am working with the body's energy and information flows and structures. There is a distinction between healing using energy medicine and the practice of medicine or any other licensed healthcare profession whose mission it is to cure. The purpose of healing is to assure a state of wholeness, whereas curing means to erase symptoms of illness or disease in the physical body.

NES Health™

After decades of research, the late Australian frontier scientist Peter Fraser formulated a system that unites the meridian system of traditional Chinese medicine with quantum-wave theory to provide the first comprehensive link between the body's biochemistry and bioenergetics. He found that we each have twelve meridian-like channels that process and coordinate information throughout the body, and that our health and well-being depend on the proper flow of energy and distribution of information through these channels.

His research further uncovered a complex structured network of energy and information fields (which he called the Human Body-Field) that interpenetrates the physical body, regulates energy metabolism, and manages biological functions throughout the body. NES technology revolves around the workings of the body-field and the concept of resonance. It is aimed at catalyzing the body's innate self-healing abilities by correcting blockages and distortions in the body-field.

The NES Health™ system can be used to address energetic imbalances related to existing health challenges (especially those of a chronic nature) and also as part of a proactive long-term wellness program. It has three components performing specific synergistic functions: scanning software (assess/reassess), the miHealth® device (unblock and rebalance), and Infoceuticals® (correct and restore).

The NES scan is a bioenergetic health-assessment tool that probes the human body-field to identify specific energetic and informational distortions. In just a few seconds, the scanning software generates a comprehensive, personalized, holistic wellness report that provides guidance for addressing the body's priorities for support.

The NES miHealth® is a handheld pulsed electro-magnetic field (PEMF) and biofeedback device; it helps to release energy blockages, stimulate trigger points, and bring the body's oscillations back into balance. It also prepares the body-field for subsequent infoceutical protocols.

NES Infoceuticals® are liquid energetic remedies. They consist of structured water that has been imprinted with bioinformation to directly correct distortions in the body-field and restore the body's inherent self-healing abilities. A special range of so-called Feel Good Infoceuticals® can be used to build a bioenergetic home remedy kit for supporting specific wellness goals, without the need for a scan.

The NES Health™ system can be accessed from the comfort of your home using a remote-scanning device. During an on-site or remote consultation, you will receive a review of your scan results and obtain recommendations for miHealth® (if applicable) and infoceutical® protocols.

Eden Energy Medicine/Eden Method

As a certified Advanced Practitioner (AP) of Eden Energy Medicine (EEM), many of the techniques and principles of energy medicine that I apply in my practice come from the work of Donna Eden; her approach uses the human hands as the tools for manipulating and harmonizing the body's subtle energy systems and fields. I specialize in facilitating the repair of the subtle body's skeleton, the Basic Grid. This advanced EEM protocol is aimed at healing the wounds created deep within the subtle body by physical and/or emotional trauma.

The various EEM techniques I use and teach involve touching, holding, tracing, tapping, and moving over specific areas of the body while you are standing, sitting, or lying down. Throughout the session, I will explain to you what I am doing and why; I will ask your permission before touching your body; and I will encourage you to ask me questions and provide feedback on how you are feeling and what you are experiencing.

The Emotion Code®

Every emotion carries a certain vibration that interacts with the body's energy fields. Traumatic life events create negative emotions that distort these fields and, if not completely processed, can get stuck somewhere in the body. Over time, these trapped emotions tend to accumulate and often become the underlying causes of physical discomfort and mental/emotional problems. Recurring feelings involving a deep sense of hurt, grief, or loss may lead to the formation of a so-called Heart-Wall, an energy wall consisting of trapped emotions created around the heart to protect it from further emotional damage.

The Emotion Code®, created by Dr. Bradley Nelson, DC (ret), is an energy-medicine technique that engages the subconscious mind to identify and release trapped emotions, making conditions right for the body to heal. Through this process, physical issues and emotional difficulties usually become much more manageable.

PhotonWave System

The PhotonWave system is built around an electronically controlled light-emitting wellness device that has been developed, tested, and perfected by scientists, medical experts, and holistic-health practitioners over the past 30+ years. The device is configured to project colored light into the human eyes. This safe, non-invasive method engages different parts of the brain that play key roles in detoxification and regulation processes and gently stimulates and supports the body's innate self-healing mechanisms.

Customized protocols, employing combinations of colors, pulse rates, and exposure times, are used to address energetic imbalances associated with a wide range of physical, mental, emotional, and behavioral issues. The number of PhotonWave sessions needed to achieve certain results will vary by individual and will typically be greater for chronic versus acute conditions.

Energy Testing

To help identify approaches and solutions that will be most beneficial for your needs, I engage elements of applied kinesiology, commonly referred to as muscle-testing or energy-testing. These typically involve a light-pressure/counter-pressure technique with specific muscles or muscle groups. With basic energy testing, we can assess the energy flow through certain areas of your body, as well as the state of important organizing patterns.

With a more sophisticated assessment method, called Autonomic Response Testing (A.R.T.™), that has been developed by Dr. Dietrich Klinghardt, MD, PhD, we can further examine the state of health of your autonomic nervous system and the coherence of your body's biophoton field. This technique allows us to detect underlying causes of specific health concerns and to identify suitable options for addressing them.

OUTCOME EXPECTATIONS, RISKS, AND BENEFITS

Energy medicine provides a comprehensive framework for assessing, correcting, and stabilizing the body's energy systems and fields through the work we do together and the recommended protocols you follow in-between sessions. However, it is impossible to guarantee any specific results. We do not know how you will personally respond to the services I offer, but we will work together to achieve the best possible results for you. While the methods I use and teach are gentle and considered safe and non-invasive, it is possible to experience some physical discomfort or emotional distress after your energies have been stimulated and manipulated. This situation may occur in our sessions together or when you are working on your own in-between appointments.

Occasionally, some people have experienced dizziness, nausea, or anxiety as side-effects from energy work. If any technique is uncomfortable or does lead to discomfort or distress, please let me know at once. I will stop immediately and can often apply another technique to rebalance the energies whose stimulation is causing discomfort or distress. At the end of the session, if applicable, I will suggest self-care exercises aimed at stabilizing and enhancing the work we have done. If indicated, I can also help refer you to an appropriate professional healthcare provider for further assistance. It is your responsibility to notify me of questions or concerns you have about the energy-medicine services you are receiving and your response to them, as well as to schedule any follow-up sessions you desire.

MY BACKGROUND AND TRAINING

Originally trained as a research scientist with a PhD in mathematics and MS-level education in physics, I dedicated over three decades to supporting Department-of-Defense operations worldwide. All along, I have had a passion for natural medicine and holistic healthcare; my formal training in working with subtle energies began in 2007. I am certified as a NES Health™ Bioenergetics Practitioner, Advanced Practitioner (Four-Year Graduate) of Eden Energy Medicine (EEM-AP), Emotion Code® Practitioner, facilitator for Reconnective Healing® and the Reconnection®, Whole Health Medicine Institute Practitioner, Holistic Stress Management Instructor, Hippocrates Lifestyle™ Medicine Coach, Hatha Yoga Teacher (RYT 200®), Trauma-Sensitive Yoga Teacher, MELT® Hand-and-Foot Instructor, Reiki Master/Teacher, Shamanic Practitioner, and in specific applications of essential oils. In addition, I have completed extensive course work and gained practical experience in various quantum-field optimization methods, including Autonomic Response Testing (A.R.T.™) and employment of the PhotonWave system. I am also trained in First Aid and Basic Life Support (CPR/AED) and Mental Health First Aid.

LIMITATIONS OF MY ENERGY MEDICINE PRACTICE

While energy medicine appears to have promising physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual benefits, it has yet to be fully researched by the Western academic, medical, and psychological communities and, therefore, is considered experimental at this time. The field of energy medicine is, for the most part, self-regulated, and it is considered complementary or alternative to the traditional healthcare professions that are licensed in the United States and in the State of Colorado.

As a Complementary and Alternative Healthcare Practitioner, I am not licensed, certified, or registered by the State of Colorado as a Healthcare Professional. While I have extensive training and experience in the healing arts, I am not a physician, psychologist, psychotherapist, or other licensed healthcare provider, nor are my services licensed by the State of Colorado. I am covered by Professional and General Liability Insurance applicable to any injury caused by an act or omission in providing the complementary and alternative healthcare services I offer.

Energy medicine is not a substitute for the diagnosis and/or treatment of medical or mental-health conditions by a licensed healthcare professional. If you have a disorder that has been previously diagnosed, treated, or managed by a licensed medical or mental-health professional, my services should be used only in conjunction with your obtaining that care. In addition, any information shared during our sessions is not to be considered a recommendation that you stop seeing any of your healthcare professionals or using prescribed medication, if any, without consulting with your healthcare professional, even if after a session it appears and indicates that such medication or treatment is unnecessary. You should discuss any recommendations made by me with your primary-care physician, obstetrician, gynecologist, oncologist, cardiologist, pediatrician, or other board-certified physician, as applicable. Regardless of our work together, you agree to take full responsibility for your self-care in the physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual dimensions of your life.

For further information about my practice, including my office policies, please refer to the attached pages describing Important Information and Office Policies which are incorporated herein by reference and made part of this Client Agreement and Disclosure Statement. If you ever have questions or concerns about the nature of my work and the methods I use, please feel free to ask me for further resources or references.

Please let me know, if you fall into any of these categories prior to starting our work together. We can discuss any emotional risks associated with touch that may be of concern to you.
